

LECTURE SERIES SUSTAINABLE LIVES

© UHH/Denstorf

ÖFFENTLICHE
VORTRAGSREIHE

April-November 2019 Edmund-Siemers-Allee 1, Flügelbau Ost (ESA O) und Moorweidenstraße 18

The multi-disciplinary project Sustainable Lives: Food Choices as Politics and Lifestyle (funded by KNU and WISO) and the team around the Sustainable Development Goal: Sustainable Consumption and Production from the UHH are pleased to host a small lecture series titled “Sustainable Lives” with international guests.

-
- Wednesday,
24.04.2019
18:00-19:30
- Assessing Digital Foodscapes: Digital Food Influencers, Social Media and the Grammars of ‘Good’ Food
Michael Goodman, Professor of Environment and Development/Human Geography, Department of Geography and Environmental Science, University of Reading.
ESA O | Room 120
-
- Thursday,
16.05.2019
18:00-19:30
- Public Perceptions and Engagement with Climate Change
Wouter Poortinga, Professor of Environmental Psychology, Welsh School of Architecture/ Department of Psychology, Cardiff University.
ESA O | Room 122
-
- Friday,
29.11.2019
10:00-12:00
- Carbon Offsetting with Eco-Conscious Consumers
Gilvan “Gil” C. Souza, Professor of Operations Management, Department of Operations & Decision Technologies, Campus: Bloomington, Indiana University.
Moorweidenstraße 18 | Room 0005.1

The Sustainable Lives Project: Prof. Michael Brüggemann, Prof. Stefanie Kley, Prof. Katharina Kleinen-von Königsow, Dr. Imke Hoppe, Prof. Jannis Androutsopoulos, Prof. Grischa Perino and Prof. Anke Strüver in cooperation with Prof. Guido Voigt & Prof. Dirk Gilbert

COORDINATION:
PROF. DR. STEFANIE KLEY

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCES
UNIVERSITÄT HAMBURG

FURTHER INFORMATION:

TINYURL.COM/SUSTAINABLE-LIVES